

A Closer Look at Areas of Regular Polygons GO!

A regular polygon is a polygon in which all sides are congruent and all angles are congruent.

Equilateral triangle
 Equilateral triangle

Square

Regular pentagon

Any regular polygon can be decomposed into congruent triangles. The area of the regular polygon can be found by finding the area of one of the congruent triangles and multiplying by the number of sides of the polygon. This method can be summarized as follows in the formula:

$$\text{Area of a regular polygon} = \frac{1}{2}Pn$$

where P represents the perimeter and n represents the number

The apothem is a segment that connects the center of a regular polygon perpendicularly to a side of the regular polygon. The apothem is also the perpendicular distance from the center of the figure to a side. The radius extends from the center of the polygon, in Figure 1 below, to the length of the apothem.

The radius is a segment that connects the center of the regular polygon to a vertex of the polygon. The side is also the distance from the center of the polygon to a vertex of the polygon. The interior angles are interior angles of the regular polygon, in Figure 1 below, and the length of the side.

Diagonals of regular right triangles, 30° - 60° - 90° and 45° - 45° - 90° and the trigonometric ratios can be used to solve problems involving regular polygons.
