

Flanimal Behaviour

All Flanimals are different. Not just different from you, but different from each other. Some are even different from themselves. They all love different - except the Woboid Mums, which can't look at all - and they all behave differently - except the Grundt, which never behaves. There he is over there, not behaving. The Grundt likes to use Gringlets to hit the Puddobay with, it's not trying to hurt him, it just likes the bongy sound it makes. It actually does hurt quite a bit, but that's hardly the Grundt's fault is it? Yes.
