Nonmonotonic Reasoning Grigoris Antoniou, Mary-Anne Williams, 1997 Nonmonotonic reasoning provides formal methods that enable intelligent systems to operate adequately when faced with incomplete or changing information In particular it provides rigorous mechanisms for taking back conclusions that in the presence of new information turn out to be wrong and for deriving new alternative conclusions instead Nonmonotonic reasoning methods provide rigor similar to that of classical reasoning they form a base for validation and verification and therefore increase confidence in intelligent systems that work with incomplete and changing information Following a brief introduction to the concepts of predicate logic that are needed in the subsequent chapters this book presents an in depth treatment of default logic Other subjects covered include the major approaches of autoepistemic logic and circumscription belief revision and its relationship to nonmonotonic inference and briefly the stable and well founded semantics of logic programs

College Writing and Beyond Anne Beaufort,2008-02-06 Composition research consistently demonstrates that the social context of writing determines the majority of conventions any writer must observe Still most universities organize the required first year composition course as if there were an intuitive set of general writing skills usable across academic and work world settings In College Writing and Beyond A New Framework for University Writing Instruction Anne Beaufort reports on a longitudinal study comparing one student s experience in FYC in history in engineering and in his post college writing Her data illuminate the struggle of college students to transfer what they learn about general writing from one context to another Her findings suggest ultimately not that we must abolish FYC but that we must go beyond even genre theory in reconceiving it Accordingly Beaufort would argue that the FYC course should abandon its hope to teach a sort of general academic discourse and instead should systematically teach strategies of responding to contextual elements that impinge on the writing situation Her data urge attention to issues of learning transfer and to developmentally sound linkages in writing instruction within and across disciplines Beaufort advocates special attention to discourse community theory for its power to help students perceive and understand the context of writing
