students belief systems in shaping formative assessment activity The theme Aligning Motives captured the disparity between the teacher s and students motives and the measures undertaken to align these motives Ownership described the students roles as owners of their learning and Reciprocity highlighted the reciprocal nature of the activity This study offers insight into the activity of formative assessment It brings to the fore the nature of formative assessment as a co constructed rather than a teacher directed activity This study describes the role formative assessment plays in the development of a community of learners who learn together while assessing each other

Formative Assessment Grade 3-4 Susan Mackey Collins,2014 In response to the Yes but how question this series provides clear and effective resources for formative assessments in all subject areas Use the pre teaching activities to assess where to begin a unit of study Use graphic organizers and written responses during the course of study Use collaborative reflections with both small and large groups And discover ways to use technology for interactive assessments The results Differentiated instruction Proactive students Achieved Common Core standards
