J. de Blij, 2009-02-18 Forces of Nature Barry A. Vann, 2012-03-20 As long as the human species has existed men and women have had to contend with the unpredictable forces of nature Geographer Barry A Vann brings a unique perspective to this age old struggle in this illuminating overview of human population shifts and their precarious relationship with climate change and geography Vann takes us on a journey along the migration routes of the earliest modern humans and tells why our ancestors chose to settle down in places that can be best described as natural utopias In the religiously oriented worldview of ancient peoples such places took on a sacred aura of divine favor Similarly destructive events such as volcanic eruptions and earthquakes were interpreted as expressions of divine wrath Vann shows how the ancient texts of the Bible and the Qur'an offer glimpses of past climates that were distinctly different from the climate of our time He also discusses the rise of technology as a means of controlling the threatening features of the natural world Though technology has enabled humanity to cope with hostile climates it has also created a false sense of security Vann notes that population clusters are increasing in dangerous areas and that no technology can protect vulnerable groups from major category hurricanes tornadoes or earthquakes Finally he considers our current anxieties regarding global warming pointing out that this focus has obscured a good deal of historical and geological evidence for a return of another ice age

The Forces of Nature offers a challenging perspective on the precarious balance between fragile human communities and their often threatening environments Human Geography H. J. de Blij, 2009-04-10 Human Geography H. J. de Blij, 2009-05-20

Cartography and Art William Cartwright, Georg Gartner, Antje Lehn, 2009-02-26 This book is the fruition of work from contributors to the Art and Cartography Cartography and Art symposium held in Vienna in February 2008 This meeting brought together cartographers who were interested in the design and aesthetics elements of cartography and artists who use maps as the basis for their art or who incorporate place and space in their expressions The outcome of bringing together these like minds culminated in a wonderful event spanning three evenings and two days in the Austrian capital Papers exhibitions and installations provided a forum for appreciating the endeavors of artists and cartographers and their representations of geography As well as indulging in an expansive and expressive occasion attendees were able to reflect on their own work and discuss similar elements in each other's work It also allowed cartographers and artists to discuss the potential for collaboration in future research and development To recognize the significance of this event paper authors were invited to further develop their work and contribute chapters to this book We believe that this book marks both a significant occasion in Vienna and a starting point for future collaborative efforts between artists and cartographers The editors would like to acknowledge the work of Manuela Schmidt and Felix Ortog who undertook the task of the design and layout of the chapters

Puritan Islam Barry A. Vann, 2011-09-27 In this unique analysis of Muslim population shifts in the Western world geographer Barry A Vann provides fresh insights into the theological factors that play into these demographic trends Vann examines the imagined geographies of Muslims with a puritan orientation People with this mind set are little inclined to accept a pluralistic multicultural live and let live concept of society And conflicts between conflicting value systems are almost inevitable Vann notes that this purist approach to Islam is certainly not universal among Muslims and there are many varying interpretations that are more moderate in outlook Nonetheless the undeniable theological background of all Muslim communities colors their values and attitudes and must be taken into consideration when attempting to understand the potential conflicts between contiguous Muslim and non Muslim groups Given the fact that the population of Muslim immigrants is growing in traditionally Christian and increasingly secular countries of the Western world while the resident populations are either stagnant or declining Vann s insightful analysis of the ways in which Islam influences perceptions of community and geography is of great relevance Human Geography H.
