Gradelife Science Caps 2014 Gauteng:

Evolution Education Around the Globe Hasan Deniz, Lisa A. Borgerding, 2018-06-21 This edited book provides a global view on evolution education. It describes the state of evolution education in different countries that are representative of geographical regions around the globe such as Eastern Europe, Western Europe, North Africa, South Africa, North America, South America, Middle East, Far East, South East Asia, Australia, and New Zealand. Studies in evolution education literature can be divided into three main categories: a) understanding the interrelationships among cognitive, affective, epistemological, and religious factors that are related to people's views about evolution; b) designing/implementing/evaluating evolution education curriculum that reflects contemporary evolution understanding; and c) reducing antievolutionary attitudes. This volume systematically summarizes the evolution education literature across these three categories for each country or geographical region. The individual chapters thus include common elements that facilitate a cross-cultural meta-analysis. Written for a primarily academic audience, this book provides a much-needed common background for future evolution education research across the globe.

Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives Jeffrey C. Carrier, Colin A. Simpfendorfer, Michael R. Heithaus, Kara E. Yopak, 2022-06-08 Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives is an award-winning and groundbreaking exploration of the fundamental elements of the taxonomy, systematics, physiology, and ecology of sharks, skates, rays, and chimeras. This edition presents current research as well as traditional models to provide future researchers with solid historical foundations in shark research as well as presenting current trends from which to develop new frontiers in their own work. Traditional areas of study such as age and growth, reproduction, taxonomy, and systematics, sensory biology, and ecology are updated with contemporary research that incorporates emerging techniques including molecular genetics, exploratory techniques in artificial insemination, and the rapidly expanding fields of satellite tracking, remote sensing, accelerometry, and imaging. With two new editors and 90 contributors from the US, UK, South Africa, Portugal, France, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, India, Palau, United Arab Emirates, Micronesia, Sweden, Argentina, Indonesia, Cameroon, and the Netherlands, this third edition is the most global and comprehensive yet. It adds six new chapters representing extensive studies of health, stress, disease, and pathology, and social structure, and continues to explore elasmobranch ecological roles and interactions with their habitats. The book concludes with a comprehensive review of conservation policies, management, and strategies, as well as consideration of the potential effects of impending climate change. Presenting cohesive and integrated coverage of key topics and discussing technological advances used in modern shark research, this revised edition offers a well-rounded picture for students and researchers.

Globalisation, Human Rights Education and Reforms Joseph Zajda, Sev Ozdowski, 2016-09-23 This book, the seventeenth instalment in the 24-volume series Globalisation, Comparative Education and Policy Research, explores the interrelationship between ideology, the state, and human rights education reforms, setting it in a global context. The book examines major human rights education reforms and policy issues in a global culture. It focuses on the ambivalent and problematic relationship between the state globalisation and human rights education discourses Using a number of diverse paradigms ranging from critical theory to historical comparative research the authors examine the reasons for and the outcomes of human rights education reforms and policy The authors discuss discourses surrounding the major dimensions affecting the human rights education namely national identity democracy and ideology These dimensions are among the most critical and significant dimensions defining and contextualising the processes surrounding the nation building identity politics and human rights education globally With this as its focus the chapters represent hand picked scholarly research on major discourses in the field of human rights education reforms The book draws upon recent studies in the areas of globalisation equality and the role of the state in human rights education reforms Furthermore the perception of globalisation as dynamic and multi faceted processes clearly necessitates a multiple perspective approach in the study of human rights education This book provides that perspective commendably It also critiques current human rights education practices and policy reforms It illustrates the way shifts in the relationship between the state and human rights education policy In the book the authors who come from diverse backgrounds and regions attempt insightfully to provide a worldview of current developments in research concerning human rights education and citizenship education globally The book contributes in a very scholarly way to a more holistic understanding of the nexus between nation state human rights education both locally and globally
