

one third of teachers had either seriously considered leaving teaching or knew a colleague who left because of intolerable student behavior. (New York Times, November 27, 2005)

- When people take a vacation, do they really leave work behind? Data from a poll conducted by Travelocity led to the following estimates: Approximately 40% of travelers check work email while on vacation, about 33% take cell phones on vacation in order to stay connected with work, and about 25% bring a laptop computer on vacation. The travel industry is paying attention—hotels, resorts, and even cruise ships are now making it easier for “vacationers” to stay connected to work. (San Luis Obispo Tribune, December 1, 2005)
- How common is domestic violence? Based on interviews with 24,000 women in 10 different countries, a study conducted by the World Health Organization found that the percentage of women who have been abused by a partner varied widely—from 15% of women in Japan to 71% of women in Ethiopia. Even though the domestic violence rate differed dramatically from country to country, in all of the countries studied women who were victims of domestic violence were about twice as likely as other women to be in poor health, even long after the violence had stopped. (San Francisco Chronicle, November 25, 2005)
- Does it matter how long children are bottle-fed? Based on a study of 2121 children between the ages of 1 and 4, researchers at the Medical College of Wisconsin concluded that there was an association between iron deficiency and the length of time that a child is bottle-fed. They found that children who were bottle-fed between the ages of 2 and 4 were three times more likely to be iron deficient than those who stopped by the time they were 1 year old. (Milwaukee Journal Sentinel and San Luis Obispo Tribune, November 26, 2005)
- Parental involvement in schools is often regarded as an important factor in student achievement. However, data from a study of low-income public schools in California led researchers to conclude that other factors, such as prioritizing student achievement, encouraging teacher collaboration and professional development, and using assessment data to improve instruction, had a much greater impact on the schools’ Academic Performance Index. (Washington Post and San Francisco Chronicle, November 26, 2005)

To be an informed consumer of reports such as those described above, you must be able to do the following:

1. Extract information from tables, charts, and graphs.
2. Follow numerical arguments.
3. Understand the basics of how data should be gathered, summarized, and analyzed to draw statistical conclusions.

Your statistics course will help prepare you to perform these tasks.

■ The Second Reason: Making Informed Judgments

Throughout your personal and professional life, you will need to understand statistical information and make informed decisions using this information. To make these decisions, you must be able to do the following:

1. Decide whether existing information is adequate or whether additional information is required.
2. If necessary, collect more information in a reasonable and thoughtful way.
3. Summarize the available data in a useful and informative manner.
