

3.4.2	Briefly explain what is meant by IFRS and why it is important for professional accountants and auditors to keep up to date with IFRS.
	IFRS = International Financial Reporting Standards. These are directives or statements developed by the IASB (International Accounting Standards Board) on how particular types of transactions should be reported in financial statements to allow for comparisons of financial statements across countries. These change over time as conditions change in the financial world. It is important for accountants to keep up to date on these as they are constantly changing.
3.4.3	Briefly explain why the Companies Act specifically mentions:
	• Accounting records that a company must keep.
	The Companies Act specifically mentions accounting records that a company must keep to protect the readers of the financial statements as the information on which the financial statements are based must be reliable and as accurate as possible, and these records facilitate internal control in a business. Businesses should not be allowed to take short cuts in this regard.
	• IFRS.
	The Companies Act specifically mentions IFRS to force companies to keep up to date with international trends in financial reporting. If they do not do this, it will be impossible to compare companies in different countries.
3.4.4	Briefly explain the role played by professional bodies such as SAICA and SAIPA in South Africa.
	The professional bodies such as SAICA and SAIPA provide a means of registering professional accountants to ensure that they have certain levels of training and knowledge. They also provide a means to apply disciplinary measures if their members do not comply with their responsibilities in responsible financial reporting.
