

Chapter 1: Introduction

Language plays a central role in the process of learning and teaching. It is not merely a medium of communication, but also a tool for thinking, understanding, and expression. The concept of 'Language Across the Curriculum' (LAC) emphasizes the importance of language in every subject area, asserting that all teachers are language teachers regardless of the subject they teach. It recognizes that language is an essential vehicle for learning and not limited to language classes alone.

In a diverse country like India, multilingualism is a natural phenomenon. Classrooms are often composed of students who come from various linguistic backgrounds and speak different mother tongues. This multilingual environment presents both opportunities and challenges in the teaching-learning process. When properly utilized, multilingualism can enhance students' academic achievements, build their confidence, and provide them with broader cognitive and cultural perspectives.

This project explores the role of multilingualism in the context of Language Across the Curriculum. It examines how students' multiple language skills can be effectively used to support learning in all subjects. The study also highlights teaching strategies, challenges faced by educators, and the importance of inclusive policies to promote linguistic diversity in the classroom.

Through this project, the aim is to understand how integrating multilingualism in classroom instruction can lead to improved learning outcomes and create a more inclusive and respectful learning environment for all students.
