Merchant Navy Question Paper 2014:

Someone Else's War John Connor, 2019-08-22 World War I was the first truly global conflict and its effects were felt across the British Empire When war broke out in 1914 Great Britain had the largest empire encompassing one quarter of the population of the world Many colonial citizens were to be enlisted into the war effort and shipped from their homes in Africa Asia and Australasia to fight on the battlefields of the Western Front What was the experience of war like for citizens of empire whether combatants or not How did the empire affect countries administered by Great Britain but geographically located tens of thousands of miles from the conflict In this book John Connor tells the story of the people whose lives were profoundly affected by someone else s war dragged against their will into a geopolitical conflict vastly removed from their normal lives

Law, Technology and Society Roger Brownsword, 2019-02-18 This book considers the implications of the regulatory burden being borne increasingly by technological management rather than by rules of law If crime is controlled if human health and safety are secured if the environment is protected not by rules but by measures of technological management designed into products processes places and so on what should we make of this transformation In an era of smart regulatory technologies how should we understand the regulatory environment and the complexion of its regulatory signals How does technological management sit with the Rule of Law and with the traditional ideals of legality legal coherence and respect for liberty human rights and human dignity What is the future for the rules of criminal law torts and contract law are they likely to be rendered redundant How are human informational interests to be specified and protected Can traditional rules of law survive not only the emergent use of technological management but also a risk management mentality that pervades the collective engagement with new technologies Even if technological management is effective is it acceptable Are we ready for rule by technology Undertaking a radical examination of the disruptive effects of technology on the law and the legal mind set Roger Brownsword calls for a triple act of re imagination first re imagining legal rules as one element of a larger regulatory environment of which technological management is also a part secondly re imagining the Rule of Law as a constraint on the arbitrary exercise of power whether exercised through rules or through technological measures and thirdly re imagining the future of traditional rules of criminal law tort law and contract law
