What Matters? Research Trends in International Comparative Studies in Mathematics Education Ji-Won Son, Tad Watanabe, Jane-Jane Lo, 2017-03-03

This book provides a unique international comparative perspective on diverse issues and practices in mathematics education between and among the US and five high performing TIMSS education systems Japan China Singapore South Korea and Taiwan The book offers multiple perspectives on the important factors that contribute to mathematics teaching and learning in different educational systems and cultural contexts Using large scale data generated by numerous international comparative studies the book analyzes and provides context for various methodological perspectives The book raises compelling questions and issues for mathematics education researchers leading to a critical examination of what can be learned from other education systems Authors address four major research perspectives by critically examining cross national similarities and differences such as research on the influence of curriculum on student learning research on institutional systems of mathematics teacher education research on improving teacher knowledge and pedagogical approaches and research using large scale data This collection of perspectives serves as a foundation for reviewing and analyzing the international comparative studies introduced in the book

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull,Jonathan D. Jansen,2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI
