Intro: Context + Overview

William Morris was invited to speak to the Trades' Guild learning, he gave a speech on the relationship between art and modern life. The extract of the speech is designed to persuade and inform the audience the link between art and society develops the natural world, this audience is a group of men, as indicated by the date and that they are occupations, ~~and~~ that are well educated, as shown by the location. With the small target audience, the speech directly appeals to the group and addresses their concerns.

Efficient etc.

any features of a speech are present in this extract. 1 of which are used to build a strong connection with the audience and persuade them to his view on the importance of the link. The extract starts with a rhetorical question, "what we are to do?", rhetorical questions engage the audience, by starting a question Morris forces the audience to question a part of society. In his answer, Morris repeats "counting-house, mining-house", this repetition emphasizes the point that wisdom has over science. This observation provides a common ground between the audience and the speaker as well as
