Farmers, Kings, and Traders Martin Hall, 1990-10-15 In this overview of the origins and development of black societies in southern Africa Martin Hall reconstructs the region's past by thoroughly examining both the archaeological and the historical records Beginning with the gradual southward movement of the earliest farmers nearly two thousand years ago Hall tracks the emergence of precolonial states such as Mapungubwe and Great Zimbabwe Farmers Kings and Traders concludes with the devastating effects of colonialism Through a close reading of the accounts of early travelers colonialists archaeologists and historians Hall places in context the often contradictory histories that have been written of this region The result is an illuminating look at how ideas about the past have themselves changed over time The International Journal of African Historical Studies , 1998 People Making History Peter S. Garlake, Andre Proctor, T. Barnes, 1985 Two titles complete the four part series of African history told by Africans from an African perspective Recommended for schools in Zimbabwe the series represents a reclaiming of history from the distortions of Eurocentric teaching Book 3 covers pre capitalist modes of production in Africa early merchant capitalism in Africa growth of industrial capitalism in Europe revolution and socialist transformation and capitalism in crisis Readers are encouraged to think critically and read the source material included In addition to giving attention to the great people in history the book focuses attention on the ordinary men and women peasant farmers workers mothers and children The people's voice is heard through direct quotations Book 4 covers colonialism and resistance Zimbabwe under colonial rule revolution and transformation and world ant imperialist struggles General History of Africa International Scientific Committee for the drafting of a General History of Africa, 1984-12-31 One of UNESCO's most important publishing projects in the last thirty years the General History of Africa marks a major breakthrough in the recognition of Africa's cultural heritage. Offering an internal perspective of Africa, the eight-volume work provides a comprehensive approach to the history of ideas, civilizations, societies, and institutions of African history. The volumes also discuss historical relationships among Africans as well as multilateral interactions with other cultures and continents.

Social History & African Environments William Beinart, JoAnn McGregor, 2003. The explosion of interest in African environmental history has stimulated research and writing on a wide range of issues facing many African nations. This collection represents some of the finest studies to date. The general topics include African environmental ideas and practices, colonial science, the state, and African responses and settlers, and Africans' culture and nature. The contributors are Emmanuel Kreike, Karen Middleton, Innocent Pikirayi, Terence Ranger, JoAnn McGregor, Helen Tilley, Grace Garswell, John McCracken, Ingrid Yngstrom, David Bunn, Sandra Swart, Robert J. Gordon, and Jane Carruthers.

A Mixed Pot Elizabeth MacGonagle, 2002. The African Heritage Misheck Sibanda, 1999. The Quest for an African Eldorado Terry H. Elkiss, 1981. Makerere Historical Journal, 1975. Southern African Encounter, 1996. Eastern African Studies, 1973. The Zimbabwe Controversy: a Case of Colonial Historiography David Chanaiwa, 1973. The Millennium Land Policy and the Economics of Farm Occupations by "war Veterans" in Zimbabwe Arnold Elson Sibanda, 2000. Journal of Southern African Affairs, 1977. Gender, Lineage, and Ethnicity in Southern Africa Jean Davison, 1997. Based on extensive fieldwork, this study telescopes how lineage ideologies are constructed and change over time in the Zambezi River region where matriliney and patriliney coexist. The author challenges the notion that patrilineality has subsumed matrilineal formations and demonstrates that despite colonial policies that privileged patrilineal gender relations of production, a preference that was extended by the postcolonial states, matrilineal relations of production have been adroitly sustained and even dominate in large parts of Malawi, northern Mozambique, and parts of Zambia and Zimbabwe. Looking specifically at the linkages between gender and ethnicity in the construction of lineage ideologies, the author offers a comparative study of women's changing status in the region and explores the implications for development policies at both the local and state levels.
