Forthare Application Forms 2016:

Violent student protests at Higher Education Institutions in South Africa Nomzamo Dube, Olusegun Morakinyo, 2026-01-19 This book offers a multidisciplinary examination of violent student protests in South African universities tracing their roots to the nation's longstanding protest traditions shaped by apartheid resistance. While situated within the field of higher education, its chapters draw on perspectives from politics, history, communication, and youth mobilisation. Central to the volume is the complex balance between students' right to protest and the risks posed by violence, intimidation, and gangsterism. Collectively, the contributions advocate for reimagining student activism through democratic and constructive forms of engagement that strengthen rather than destabilise the academic project. Anchored in Place

Bank, Leslie, Cloete, Nico, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity, particularly access and affordability, historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism, and the shape and structure of the higher education system. What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place-based development. This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place-based developmental role of universities. In the international literature and policy, there has been an increasing integration of the university with place-based development, especially in cities. This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place-based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities. It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions, homelands, and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub-national place-based development has not been a key theme in post-apartheid higher education planning. Given the developmental crisis in the country, universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts, cities, and regions. But what should that role be? Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework? What plans and programmes are in place, and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level? Who and what might be involved? Where should the focus lie, and who might benefit most, and why? Is there a need, perhaps, to approach the challenges of college towns, secondary cities, and metropolitan centers differently? This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities, including Wits, Pretoria, Nelson Mandela University, and especially Fort Hare, as one of its post-centenary challenges. Kaapse bibliotekaris, 2019 Issues for Nov 1957 include section Accessions Aanwinste Sept 1957

Open Access Implications for Sustainable Social, Political, and Economic Development Jain, Priti, Mnjama, Nathan, Oladokun, O., 2020-09-18 Open access publishing can be used as a strategic tool to avail access to information and achieve universal literacy. Open access has gained importance over the past 15 years by making knowledge available to all without any barrier of affordability or restrictions on using this knowledge to inform and develop. Open access contributes to scientific research excellence, disseminates research results to a wider community, and promotes multi-disciplinary and
