Chapter 1

PURPOSE AND PERSPECTIVE OF THE CHAPTER

The purpose of Chapter 1 is to lay out ten economic principles that the rest of the text. The ten principles can be grouped into three categories: how people interact, and how the economy works. References will be made repeatedly to these ten principles.

Key points addressed in this chapter:

- The fundamental lessons about individual decision making are that the cost of any action is the opportunity cost, that rational people make decisions by comparing marginal benefits and marginal costs, and that people change their behavior in response to changes in marginal benefits and marginal costs.
- The fundamental lessons about economic interaction are that people interact in markets, that markets are a good way to coordinate economic activity, and that the price system is a good way to coordinate economic activity.
- The fundamental lessons about the economy as a whole are that the economy is a complex system, that the economy is a dynamic system, and that the economy is a system that evolves over time.

CHAPTER OBJECTIVES

The following objectives are addressed in this chapter:
