

Journal Article

This document sets out handy tips on how to get published. Standards are high and getting published is not easy, but there are certain things to think about to improve your success rate at getting an article published in a SAGE journal.

Why should you consider publication?

- Do you have contribution to make? Is the conventional wisdom mistaken, this is theory extension / filling a gap, this is novel, innovative work. Questions to ask yourself: Who's going to be interested? How does it build on what we already know? How significant is your message? How sure are you of your findings?
- It is important for your career
- Publication is integral to the academic's role

Tips before submitting

- High risk submissions: conversion of a big report or monograph or doctorate thesis; straight conference paper, not focused for the journal, not formatted for the journal and it might be published elsewhere in the conference proceedings
- Low risk submissions: papers written for the journal, is it fits with the genre and scope of the journal, engages with the debates, refers to previous work published in the journal and related publications

Which journal should you submit to?

- Does your research fit the journal's aims and scope?
- What type of submission is it? Empirical research, review paper, brief report, thought piece, book review. Does the journal publish these kinds of papers?
- Does the journal have a good reputation in the field? Are the Editor and Editorial Board high profile?
- Check the references to see in which journals the research you are citing mainly falls.
- Is it ISI ranked or ranked highly with other metrics, eg h-index, ABS, ERH, ERA
- Does your institution have any restrictions on where you can submit articles?
- What is the acceptance/rejection rate?

Tips before submitting

- Read the journal's aims and scope
- Read the journal's articles and TOCs on SAGE Journals Online to familiarise yourself with the content. <http://online.sagepub.com>
- Consult with colleagues
- You may wish to discuss your paper with the journal Editor.

What should you do to prepare your manuscript?

- Read the manuscript submission guidelines. The SAGE website hosts manuscript submission guidelines for all our journals.
- Make every effort to improve the quality of the manuscript before submission.
- Be as objective as possible about your work

Manuscript submission guidelines checklist should include the following golden rules:

- Have you used the right references, eg Harvard, APA, Vancouver, Chicago?
- Have you stayed within the word limit?
- Is it single/double blind review? If so, ensure there are no identifying features in your manuscript.
- Have you conformed to the conventions of academic writing?
 - title, abstract and keywords – please refer to the information and guidance on how best to title your article, write your abstract and select your keywords by visiting SAGE's Journal Author Gateway Guidelines on how to help readers find your article online; <http://www.uk.sagepub.com/authors/journals/readership.asp>
 - introduction with a clear, compelling statement of purpose,
 - conceptual grounding/literature review,
 - hypotheses/research questions that are clear, meaningful, answerable, inter-related, flow logically from the introduction,
 - methodology, appropriate sample, do the procedures/ measures offer enough information for replicability/trust
 - analysis and discussion – they should be systematic, sensible analyses,
 - tables/figures that speed comprehension
 - results, discussion of results, key findings
 - conclusion: don't merely repeat results; directives of research and practice; awareness of limitations; don't go beyond the evidence.
- Has permission been obtained for use of copyrighted material from other sources (including the Web)?
- Have you proofread it before submitting?
- Have you provided a cover letter? Keep it short and highlight the salient features in the letter.
- Have you considered including supplemental data? Will it add value to the content?

When you think it is ready and you have ticked off the above checklist, submit your article. Is there an online submission process or should it be sent direct to the Editor/Managing Editor? CHECK THE SAGE WEBSITE: www.sagepub.com

Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 1 Søren Kierkegaard, 2015-06-22 I would like to write a novel in which the main character would be a man who got a pair of glasses one lens of which reduced images as powerfully as an oxyhydrogen microscope and the other of which magnified on the same scale so that he perceived everything relatively A flight of fancy by an aspiring science fiction writer While it may sound as such this wistful musing is one of the little discussed personal reflections of nineteenth century philosopher Søren Kierkegaard whose remarkable journals and notebooks unpublished during his lifetime are presented here The first of an eleven volume series produced by Copenhagen's Søren Kierkegaard Research Centre this volume is the first English translation and commentary of Kierkegaard's journals based on up to date scholarship It offers new insight into Kierkegaard's inner life In addition to early drafts of his published works the journals contain his thoughts on current events and philosophical and theological matters notes on books he was reading miscellaneous jottings and ideas for future literary projects Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format one for his initial entries and the second for the marginal comments he added later The new edition of the journals reproduces this format and contains photographs of original manuscript pages as well as extensive scholarly commentary Translated by leading experts on Kierkegaard Journals and Notebooks will become the benchmark for all future Kierkegaard scholarship

Journal of the Society of Chemical Industry Society of Chemical Industry (Great Britain),1927 Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks Volume 10 Søren Kierkegaard,2018-08-14 For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought, psychology, and contemporary aesthetics, especially literary theory. Despite his relatively short life, Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer, as attested to by the 26-volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings. But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing, most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks. Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers, but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries. By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects: philosophical, religious, political, personal. Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop, where we can see his entire universe of thought. We can witness the genesis of his published works, to be sure, but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts, new insights, and fragments, large and small, of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works. Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself. Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two-column format: one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later. This edition of the journals reproduces this format, includes several photographs of original manuscript pages, and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced. Volume 10 of this series includes the final six of Kierkegaard's important NB journals, Journals NB31 through NB36, which cover the last months of 1854, a period when Kierkegaard made the final preparations for and the initial launch of his furious assault on the established church. But in addition to this incendiary material, these journals also contain a great trove of his reflections on theology, philosophy, and the perils and opportunities of modernity. Ebook: Research Design and Methods: A Process Approach Kenneth Borden, Bruce Barrington Abbott,2014-10-16 Research Design and Methods: A Process Approach takes students through the research process from getting and developing a research idea to designing and conducting a study through analyzing and reporting data. Information on the research process is presented in a lively and engaging way, highlighting the numerous decisions, both big and small, that must be made when designing and conducting successful research. Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 2 Søren Kierkegaard,2015-06-22 Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 published an extraordinary number of works during his lifetime, but he left behind nearly as much unpublished writing, most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks. Volume 2 of this 11-volume edition of Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks includes materials from 1836 to 1846, a period that takes Kierkegaard from his student days to the peak of his activity as an author. In addition to containing hundreds of Kierkegaard's reflections on philosophy, theology, literature and his own personal life these journals are the seedbed of many ideas and passages that later surfaced in Either Or Repetition Fear and Trembling Philosophical Fragments The Concept of Anxiety Stages on Life's Way Concluding Unscientific Postscript and a number of Edifying Discourses Research Methods in Physical Activity Jerry R. Thomas, Jack K. Nelson, Stephen J. Silverman, 2011 This key text offers an engaging overview of the research process and methods for students within all subdisciplines of sport and exercise sciences New chapters have been specifically created to future models of research that employ both quantitative and qualitative methods How to Write and Publish Papers in the Medical Sciences Edward J. Huth, 1982 Abstract Practical concise guidelines are presented to assist medical researchers in preparing publishable papers on their studies All phases of the publication process are considered ranging from the conception of the paper its preparation and seeing it through the editorial and technical review processes to actual publication The various sub steps of the overall paper preparation publication process are compartmentalized allowing for selective access by experienced authors or for retrospective referral by any author The guideline information provided strives to ease the burden of paper preparation and enhance the enjoyment and confidence of prospective authors A variety of manuscript formats are addressed wz Journal of the Anthropological Society of Oxford Anthropological Society of Oxford, 1970 Lingnan Science Journal ,1928 Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1904 International Co-operative Bulletin ,1913 Review of International Co-operation ,1914 Journal of the Optical Society of America ,2006 The Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1923 Journal of the Society of Chemical Industry ,1925 The British Journal of Photography William Crookes, T.A.
