web nov 1 2014 fractional crystallisation is a powerful purification technique the same process that defines the structure of rocks can be used to separate and purify dissolved solids if the substances in a mixed solution have sufficiently different solubilities this is defined as the maximum amount of solid that can be dissolved in a volume of web q2 what is the disadvantage of fractional crystallization the disadvantage of fractional crystallization is that with each increase in crystallization step number we lose  $\text{KNO}_3$  the graph shows that as crystallization number increases the of the original  $\text{KNO}_3$  mass recovered decreases in the first

web fractional crystallization is a method of refining substances based on differences in solubility it fractionates via differences in crystallization forming of crystals if a mixture of two or more substances in solution are allowed to crystallize for example by allowing the temperature of the solution to decrease the precipitate will
