Circle Story/Story Map Language Arts

The following CCSS standards are addressed in this reading: Reading: L.1.1, RL.1.2, RL.1.3, RL.1.4, RL.1.5, RL.1.6, RL.1.7, RL.1.8, RL.1.9, RL.2.1, RL.2.2, RL.2.3, RL.2.4, RL.2.5, RL.2.6, RL.2.7, RL.2.8, RL.2.9, RL.3.1, RL.3.2, RL.3.3, and RL.3.4. The students will analyze texts to understand explicitly, understand infer, or synthesize information.

Structure the book so the students read the text and listen to them, and ask them to predict what they think the story might be about. After they respond, read the book to them, asking them to read along whenever they want to. Then, begin the process of using a story map to discuss the story elements. Discuss with them the elements of "setting." Explain to them what the word setting means if needed, and then write down whenever they tell you for the setting. Repeat the process with "characters." Then explain to the students that their book is divided into separate "pages." Have them discuss what they perceive each event to be, and write down their responses. Finally, give the students the opportunity to come up with their own ideas.

Introduce the story's structure. Make sure that the story happens at the same place, you write down the students' responses. As the story progresses, emphasize to the students that the story begins and ends in the same place.

Constructing a circle story. After identifying the story's elements, the students can illustrate each event in their stories. They can draw their favorite characters in the story.

Have children's books have a similar structure structure (story elements) that they can use to write their own stories. It is important that students be able to read and understand the format of these stories. By specifically pointing out the elements of a story map, the students will begin to understand how stories are written.

Illustrated with the students, a triangle shape making the house. The house is yellow and the roof is red. The house is on a hill.

In Search of a Shape: Shape With Social Studies

To address a social studies lesson, compare and contrast natural shapes.

Go for a walk in search of a shape in your neighborhood. Look closely at things around you and bring a camera along to capture the shapes you see. Put the pictures into PowerPoint and outline the shapes. What shapes are most common? Where are shapes found in nature? What is water, finding shapes in nature or human made structures? Design a shape that is made out of only one shape. Draw a picture and write about the place.
