a purely reductionist approach to understanding what is occurring in the world today Part 2 moves from identifying the problems to solving them with chapters examining the ability of the present world system to address these issues and outlining a process for action The book concludes by discussing what could follow capitalism as a social organizing strategy and perhaps more importantly the consequences to the planet if we do not construct a new world system This book is essential reading for students and scholars of sustainable development climate change environmental studies rural and urban planning environmental psychology political economy sociology social policy leisure studies and environmental politics More broadly it is a vital resource for all those interested in building a sustainable society
