Question 1

The text below is about photos taken with mobile phones.

Read the text below. The first and last lines are correct. The errors have been underlined for you.

Write one word to correct the error in the space provided. An example has been given. The correct word must not change the meaning of the sentence. There are no spelling and punctuation errors in this text.

Nearly everybody has a mobile phone these days. Nearly all mobile phones have an camera in them. Taking photos with a mobile phones is a very common activity. Previously, photos was taken only on special occasions. Most often, the occasions were importance enough to be celebrated. Because of this, most old photographs were of occasion, like marriages, birthdays and special trips. Photos were taken by a camera and the photographs were printed. Can we say the same for photos take with the mobile phones? How many photos shot with a mobile phone actually get printed out? Such photos are so commoner that most of the photos taken hardly has any memorable value. Many people take photos of the food they see about to eat and post them on their Facebook pages. The next time they see these pictures do you think they have any value? Yet, every day, millions of people all over the world take such useless, meaningless photos.
