Introduction

This poster provides basic rules for using the Chicago Manual of Style (CMOS). To supplement this material, consult The Chicago Manual of Style, 17th edition. This poster follows one of the two CMOS patterns of documentation: Notes-Bibliography. Notes and Bibliography (N, B)

Notes

Include a note (endnote or footnote) each time you use a source, whether through a direct quote or through a paraphrase or summary. Footnotes are added at the end of the page where the source is referenced. Endnotes are compiled at the end of the entire document.

The footnote or endnote itself begins with the appropriate number followed by a period and then a space.

1. Leah and Jerry's last, Enclosure of Signs & Spots (London: S&B Publications, 1994), 141-51.

A superscript number should be placed at the end of the sentence to the corresponding bibliographic information being cited.

- Leah and Jerry's last, Enclosure of Signs & Spots, was published in 1994.¹

The first note should include all relevant information about the source: author's full name, source title, and facts of publication. If the source is cited again, only include the surname of the author, a shortened form of the title (if more than four words), and page numbers.

Bibliography

The bibliography provides an alphabetical list of all sources used in the given work. This page, must often titled Bibliography, is usually placed at the end of the work preceding the index. It should include all sources cited within the work.

Although bibliographic entries for various sources may be formatted differently, all included sources (books, articles, web sites, etc.) are arranged alphabetically by the first part of each bibliographic entry, which is usually the author's last name. When your parenthetical citation includes two or more works, order them the same way they appear in the reference list, separated by a semicolon.

Notes

General Model for Citing Books

Web Sources

The title of a website, blog, or social media post that is analogous to a traditionally printed work, but does not have (and never had) a printed counterpart, can be treated like titles of other websites. For example, Wikipedia can be treated as a website, rather than as a conventional encyclopedia.

1. Leah and Jerry, "Title of Web Page," Purdue University of Signs & Spots, publication date date date date 17 10111111, 141.

Newspapers

For print articles, include the name(s) of the author, headline or column heading, newspaper name, month (abbreviated), day, and year published.

1. Leah and Jerry, "Enclosure of Signs & Spots," Signs Magazine, February 2011, 141.

Bibliography

The author's name is inverted, and the title of books and journals are full cited. Titles of articles, chapters, poems, etc. are placed in quotation marks. The year of publication is listed after the publisher or journal name. All major elements are separated by periods.
