Home Fires in France Dorothy Canfield,2015-02-27 In one of the few large handsome houses in Crouy there is something else I wish we might import into America Very simply with no brass band of a formal organization secretaries or reports the younger girls of the town are brought together to learn how to sew and cook and keep their household accounts The splendid park which looks so lordly with its noble trees is only the playground for the little girls in gingham aprons in the intervals of their study and the fine high ceiled spacious old salon a veritable Henry James room is employed in anything but a Henry James manner as the workroom where all the children from the poorer houses round about sit in the sunshine setting beautiful fine stitches and chattering like magpies A large room at the side has been fitted up oh so long before domestic science struck America as a kitchen and here the little girls daily prepare their own luncheons after having turn by turn done the marketing

Home Fires in France Dorothy Canfield,2011-09-21 Perhaps the first thing which brought our boys to a halt and a long long look around them was the age of the place Apparently it has the statement is hardly exaggerated always been there As a matter of historical fact it has been there for more than a thousand years On hearing that the American boys always gasped They were used to the conception of the great age of historical spots by which they meant cities in which great events have occurred Paris Rome Stratford on Avon Granada But that an inconsiderable settlement of a thousand inhabitants where nothing in particular ever happened beyond the birth life and death of its people should have kept its identity through a thousand years gave them so they said a queer feeling As they stood in the quiet gray street looking up and down and taking in the significance of the fact one could almost visibly see their minds turning away from the text book idea of the Past as an unreal sparsely settled period with violent historical characters in doublet and ruff or chain mail thrusting broadswords into one another or signing treaties which condemned all succeeding college students to a new feat of memory you could almost see their brilliant shadowless New World youth deepened and sobered by a momentary perception of the Past as a very long and startlingly real phenomenon full scaringly full of real people entirely like ourselves going about the business of getting born being married and dying with as little conscious regard as we for historical movements and tendencies They were never done marveling that the sun should have fallen across Crouy streets at the same angle before Columbus discovered America as to day that at the time of the French

Revolution just as now the big boys and sturdy men of Crouy should have left the same fields which now lie golden in the sun and have gone out to repel the invader that people looked up from drawing water at the same fountain which now sparkles under the sycamore trees and saw Catherine de Medici pass on her way north as now they see the gray American Ambulance rattle by And I bet it was over these same cussed hard heads cried the boy from Ohio trying vainly to ease his car over the knobby paving stones
