Modern Financial Management 8th Edition:

Modern Financial Management Stephen A. Ross, 2007 Corporate Finance by Ross Westerfield and Jaffe is a popular textbook that emphasizes the modern fundamentals of the theory of finance while providing contemporary examples to make the theory come to life. The authors aim to present corporate finance as the working of a small number of integrated and powerful intuitions rather than a collection of unrelated topics. They develop the central concepts of modern finance: arbitrage, net present value, efficient markets, agency theory, options, and the trade-off between risk and return, and use them to explain corporate finance with a balance of theory and application. The well-respected author team is known for their clear, accessible presentation of material that makes this text an excellent teaching tool. Brad Jordan, known for his successful work on the RWJ Fundamentals and Essentials books, contributed to this edition. His influence will be seen particularly in the writing style with smoother coverage of topics and the increased quality in the problem material.

Modern Business and Financial Risk Management Ephraim Matanda, 2025-03-03 This book is on business and financial risk management in all forms of business organisations, both public and private in nature. Coming from a modern business management perspective, the book presents and details the modern sources and investment strategies used by investors in maximising value, edition, growth, and development of their businesses. It expands the potentialities of firm shareholders by extending businesses' endeavours through innovation, financial engineering, and revolutions. Realising that most of the texts on business and financial risk management are research-specific, regardless of the fact that most financial and investment methods and approaches today are contingent, complementary, and overlapping, the book advances the argument that it's high time that researchers consider coming up and applying research texts that are multi-disciplinary and promoting interactions across related fields. The richness and novelty of the book is premised on its attempt to offer business and financial risks all in one book, which can be applied to different disciplines and situations. More significantly, and without overrating the potential of multi-disciplinary research approaches, the book provides additional insights and dimensions on origins, evolutions, and trends emerging in contemporary research. The book is therefore bringing an important contribution to contemporary research debates and multi-disciplinary discourses that have taken centre stage in recent years in many universities and across the world in dissemination of knowledge aimed at turning the fortunes of modern businesses towards effective risk management and growth towards sustainable development. The book is critically important to students and practitioners across fields and, let alone businesses that are struggling to grow and develop due to weak risk management systems, poor corporate governance, and ethics frameworks.

Islamic finance has grown exponentially since 1963 and has reached more than 70 countries around the world with the asset size of about 2.5 trillion. The Islamic investment system today comprises of both asset backed and asset based offerings. There is an evidence of sustained demand for Islamic investment in the global market among both Muslim and non Muslim investors with demand outstripping supply and management. This book is a timely guide to understanding the paradigm of Islamic investment and its application in the contemporary investment reality and will be of particular interest to academia, industrialists, professionals, investors, investment managers, product designers, students, decision makers and policymakers globally in the field of investment. Decolonisation in Africa Munyaradzi Mawere, Costain Tandi, 2026-01-06. This book confronts one of the most urgent and enduring challenges of our time: decolonisation in Africa. It makes an audacious and unapologetic argument that strategic areas across the continent remain deeply mired in neo-colonialism, thereby rendering decolonisation an unfinished business. Through perceptive chapters written by distinguished African scholars and intellectuals, this volume interrogates the systemic barriers to Africa's self-determination and sovereignty. The book delves into four critical areas still facing colonial entanglement: It exposes persistent Eurocentric epistemic frameworks embedded in education systems, critiques political systems rooted in colonial governance which often fail to reflect the aspirations of African societies, and dissects exploitative economic structures designed to perpetuate dependency and inequality. Equally, it explores cultural identity and heritage, confronting the erasure and distortion of Africa's rich narratives while championing alternative models grounded in African traditions and priorities. More than a critique, the volume offers a visionary blueprint for transforming these systems and reclaiming Africa's agency in defining its destiny. Richly theoretical yet accessible, it challenges readers to fundamentally rethink Africa's position in the global order and envision a future unburdened by the shadows of its colonial past. This is an essential resource for scholars in African Studies, Global Studies, Social Anthropology, Development Studies, and Economics, as well as for all those who seek to understand and contribute to the ongoing liberation.
