, 1996 Creating Engaging Discussions Jennifer H. Herman, Linda B. Nilson, 2023-07-03 If you have ever been apprehensive about initiating classroom discussion fearing silences the domination of a couple of speakers superficial contributions or off topic remarks this book provides strategies for creating a positive learning experience Jennifer H Herman and Linda B Nilson demonstrate how to create the conditions to facilitate deep and meaningful learning as well as to assess the effectiveness of discussions They identify analyze and solve common problems in both classroom and online discussions and in both small and large classes They take a direct practice oriented approach that in acknowledging common challenges provides principles guidance on design examples of activities and techniques and eight detailed case studies These cases demonstrate successful approaches that faculty across disciplines and from a variety of institutions have adopted in their face to face blended or online courses at the undergraduate or graduate level The case authors begin by describing the original pedagogical challenge they faced and explain how they addressed it and assessed the results of their innovation They also offer practical recommendations to readers who may want to try their strategies Intended for faculty this book will be equally valuable for educational developers who can use this resource in their programs and private consultations At the graduate level this book can serve as a text or workshop resource in college teaching courses and teaching assistant development programs The final chapter provides a set of resources and activities including discussion questions on the case studies writing prompts and jigsaw formats that are equally appropriate for individual study or for use in workshop environments You ll never again have to suffer such a profound silence that as described by a contributor to the book she could hear the crickets chirping outside

The Governance of Artificial Intelligence in the “Autonomous City” Federico Cugurullo, Tan Yigitcanlar, Xiaoling Zhang, Vincent J. Del Casino Jr., Natalie Marie Gulsrud, Sarah Barns, 2023-10-18 Artificial intelligence AI is now mediating and in some cases seen to be controlling key urban services and infrastructures thus becoming a prominent feature of the contemporary city As portrayed in recent studies the autonomous city can be understood as a city where urban artificial intelligences perform tasks and take on roles which have traditionally been the domain of humans At stake in these debates are questions related to the meaning and ongoing role of intelligence for both humans and machines While autonomous cars transport people service robots run shops drones deliver goods and city brains govern entire cities humans are redefining the meaning of what smart means in the city and what role the human being may play in future urban spaces With humans shifted to new sectors of the economy or pushed aside by algorithms and robotic agents creating new ways of seeing and governing the city we raise the question as to whether or not cities are becoming more autonomous from human experience in the sense that their operation does not rely as much on human inputs anymore

Tracks, Trails, and Thieves Jack E. Deibert, Brent Henry Breithaupt, 2016 Detailed recounting of the first government sponsored geological survey of the Wyoming and adjacent territories in 1868 The results of Hayden s survey provided the earliest descriptive stratigraphic structural profile across the Rocky Mountains and the initial discovery of dinosaur tracks in western North America
