A Sociology of Place in Australia Claire Baker, 2021-04-09 This book weaves a social economic and cultural history of Australia with rare first hand accounts of the lived experience of change related to farming and agriculture It provides a rich sociology of how living on the land has changed throughout Australia's history The book investigates the complex effects of the state on everyday life using an historical agricultural case study of place to explore long running sociohistorical processes of change examined through both a macro and micro sociological lens This provides a multi faceted perspective from which to examine economic social and cultural transformations in each of these contexts and change is examined through multiple sites of expression public policy and the role of the state colonial processes of dispossession social and cultural systems of value economic change and its consequences farming practices and lived experience neoliberalism and globalisation and their social impacts community decline and trends toward corporate and foreign land ownership Each of these transformations impact upon lived experience and everyday life and this book provides grounded insight into exactly this relationship and process

English Mechanic and Mirror of Science and Art, 1886
The Meritocracy Trap Daniel Markovits, 2020-09-08 A revolutionary new argument from eminent Yale Law professor Daniel Markovits attacking the false promise of meritocracy It is an axiom of American life that advantage should be earned through ability and effort Even as the country divides itself at every turn the meritocratic ideal that social and economic rewards should follow achievement rather than breeding reigns supreme Both Democrats and Republicans insistently repeat meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we are It sustains the American dream But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy's successes This is the radical argument that Daniel Markovits prosecutes with rare force Markovits is well placed to expose the sham of meritocracy Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within Markovits also knows that if we understand that meritocratic inequality produces near universal harm we can cure it When The Meritocracy Trap reveals the inner workings of the meritocratic machine it also illuminates the first steps outward towards a new world that might once again afford dignity and prosperity to the American people Bihar and Mithila J. Rorabacher,2016-09-13 The world has become obsessed with the Western notions of progress development and globalization the latter a form of human and economic homogenization These processes through the aegis of the United Nations are comparatively monitored Those nations deemed to be lagging behind are then provided with foreign aid and developmental assistance For nearly seventy years India has sought its place in this global endeavour yet even today abject poverty and backwardness can be observed in districts in almost every state with the highest concentration of such districts found in the state of Bihar and a cultural enclave known as Mithila Development in India has been elusive because it is difficult to define and because the Western concepts of development and progress have no absolute equivalents within many non Western settings As a consequence development programmes often fail because they are unable to ask the right questions but equally important is the political economy derived from foreign aid For politicians there is no long term benefit to be derived from successful development In general foreign aid only serves to corrupt governments and politicians and in the end does very little for those who need help The struggling states of Bihar and Mithila serve as extreme examples of India's problems Development here has been thwarted by a hereditary landed aristocracy supported by religion casteism custom social stratification tradition and patterns of behaviour that can be traced back millennia In turn all these have been masterfully manipulated by co-opted politicians who have turned politics into a veritable art form as this volume comprehensively demonstrates Collier's Once a Week ,1908 Socio-Economic Change and the Broad-Basing Process in India M. V. Nadkarni,2019-06-18 This book offers a new concept of inclusion of the marginalised in India the Broad basing Process The author examines how through this process increasing numbers of marginalised social groups can enter into the social political and economic mainstream and progressively derive the same advantages from society as the groups already part of it The book critically reviews how the broad basing process has worked in the past in India both before and after its independence It examines how social groups like Dalits OBCs Muslims women and the labour class have fared and how far economic development urbanisation infrastructure development and the digital revolution have helped the marginalised and promoted broad basing It also offers mechanisms to speed up broad basing in poorer economies A first of its kind this volume will be useful for scholars and researchers of political studies sociology exclusion studies political economy and also for general readers
